CONCUSSION FACTS

According to the CDC and the NFHS standards a concussion is defined as a bump, blow, or jolt to the head can cause a concussion, a type of traumatic brain injury. Concussions can also occur from a blow to the body that causes the head and brain to move rapidly back and forth. Even a “ding,” “getting your bell rung,” or what seems to be a mild bump or blow to the head can be serious. During sports and recreation activities, concussions may result from a fall or from players colliding with each other, the ground, or with obstacles. The potential for concussions is greatest in athletic environments where collisions are common.

Concussions can occur, however, in any organized or unorganized sport or recreational activity, as well as outside of sports from events such as a motor vehicle crash. Sometimes people do not recognize that a bump, blow, or jolt to the head or body can cause a concussion. As a result, athletes may not receive medical attention at the time of the injury, but they may later report symptoms such as a headache, dizziness, or difficulty remembering or concentrating. These symptoms can be a sign of a concussion.

Did you know?

Athletes who have ever had a concussion are at increased risk for another concussion. Young children and teens are more likely to get a concussion and take longer to recover than adults. A repeat concussion that occurs before the brain recovers from the first—usually within a short period of time (hours, days, or weeks)—can slow recovery or increase the likelihood of having long-term problems.

- A concussion is a brain injury.
- All concussions are serious.
- Most concussions occur without loss of consciousness.
- Concussions can occur in any sport or recreation activity.
- Recognition and proper response to concussions when they first occur can help prevent further injury or even death.

RECOGNIZING A POSSIBLE CONCUSSION

To help recognize a concussion, you should watch for and ask others to report the following two things among your athletes:

1. A forceful bump, blow, or jolt to the head or body that results in rapid movement of the head.
2. Any concussion symptoms or change in the athlete’s behavior, thinking, or physical functioning: Athletes who experience one or more of the signs and symptoms associated with a concussion should be kept out of play the day of the injury and until a health care professional, experienced in evaluating for concussion, says they are symptom-free and it’s OK to return to play.

Concussions:

SIGNS OBSERVED BY COACHING STAFF

Appears dazed or stunned

Is confused about assignment or position

Forgets an instruction

Is unsure of game, score, or opponent

SYMPTOMS REPORTED BY ATHLETE

Headache or “pressure” in head

Nausea or vomiting

Balance problems or dizziness

Double or blurry vision

Moves clumsily	Sensitivity to light and noise
Answers questions slowly	Feeling sluggish, hazy, foggy, or groggy
Loses consciousness (even briefly)	Concentration or memory problems
Shows mood, behavior, or personality changes	Confusion
Can't recall events prior to hit or fall	Just not "feeling right" or is "feeling down"
Can't recall events after hit or fall

When a Concussion is Suspected: If you suspect that an athlete has a concussion, implement the following IMMEDIATELY:

1. Remove the athlete from play. Look for signs and symptoms of a concussion if the athlete has experienced a bump or blow to the head or body. When in doubt, sit them out.
2. Ensure that the athlete is evaluated by a health care professional experienced in evaluating for concussion. Do not try to judge the severity of the injury yourself. Health care professionals have a number of methods that they can use to assess the severity of concussions. As a coach, recording the following information can help healthcare professionals in assessing the athlete after the injury:
  - Cause of the injury and force of the hit or blow to the head or body
  - Any loss of consciousness(passed out/knocked out) and if so, for how long
  - Any memory loss immediately following the injury
  - Any seizures immediately following the injury
  - Number of previous concussions (if any)
3. Inform the athlete's parents or guardians about the possible concussion and give them the fact sheet on concussion. Make sure they know that the athlete should be seen by a health care professional experienced in evaluating for concussion.
4. Keep the athlete out of play the day of the injury and until a health care professional, experienced in evaluating for concussion, says s/he is symptom - free and it's OK to return to play. A repeat concussion that occurs before the brain recovers from the first—usually within a short period of time (hours, days, or weeks)—can slow recovery or increase the likelihood of having long-term problems. In rare cases, repeat concussions can result in edema (brain swelling), permanent brain damage, and even death.

The City of Greensboro requires a medical release form from the physician before the player can return to play. This documentation must be submitted to the League Director for clearance. League Director will notify the Head Coaches when clearance has been obtained. Parents must bring the medical release form to the Parks and Recreation Administration Office located at 1001 Fourth Street, Greensboro, NC 27405.

Remember, you can't see a concussion and some athletes may not experience and/or report symptoms until hours or days after the injury. Most people with a concussion will recover quickly and fully. But for some people, signs and symptoms of concussion can last for days, weeks, or longer. Exercising or activities that involve a lot of concentration, such as studying, working on the computer, or playing video games may cause concussion symptoms(such as headache or tiredness) to reappear or get worse. After a concussion, physical and cognitive activities—such as concentrating and learning—should be carefully managed and monitored by a health care professional.

It is normal for athletes to feel frustrated, sad and even angry because they cannot return to sports right away or cannot keep up with their school work. Talk with athletes, parents, and other coaches about these issues and offer support and encouragement.

EMERGENCY RESPONSE PLAN

Statement of Purpose – Though we attempt to avoid accidents and emergencies by adequate planning and training, as well as maintain safe facilities and equipment, these situations will inevitably still occur. For that reason, the entire leadership who is involved in all aspects of Athletic programming including professional staff, part-time employees, officials and volunteers must have a clear understanding and follow this emergency response plan.

Prevention

1. All participants must provide a completed Medical History/Registration form. This form must be attached to the roster prior to the first game of each season.

2. It is highly recommended that all participants have a pre participation physical examination with a follow-up examination prior to each season.
3. We recommend Coaches have a stocked first aid kit at every practice and game. A first aid kit will be provided at all indoor game locations and at sites with concession areas. In addition, it's strongly recommended that all coaches maintain a copy of each participant's medical history emergency contact information, etc.
4. If a player is injured during a game, only the Athletics Staff, officials, and the coaches will be allowed on the playing field/area with the injured player. Persons who are available with any type of first aid training (first responder, athletic trainer, EMT, nurse or doctor) will be allowed to help the injured person. All other players must go to another area of the field or bench. Spectators will not be allowed in the field area at anytime during the game.
5. Anyone administering first aid, especially in dealing with blood and/or other bodily fluids must wear protective gloves and any other personal protective equipment that is available.
6. Blank accident forms must be kept with each first aid kit. A form must be completed by the field/gym supervisor and coaches at the scene for every major emergency and/or accident. Forms must be submitted within 24 hours to League Director.
7. A telephone must always be available at each game site. Coaches are responsible for emergency communications at practices.

In Case of Emergency

For major emergencies, follow ALL steps.

For minor emergencies, follow the BOLD items ONLY.

1. Assess the injury.
2. Activate the medical response plan / emergency action plan.
3. Send a "phone runner" to call emergency medical personnel and to call or locate the injured person's parents if under age.
4. Administer basic first aid.
5. Send another person to direct the arriving emergency medical personnel.
6. Prepare the injured person to be transported. Do not move the injured person until emergency medical personnel arrive or if the scene becomes unsafe.
7. Designate someone to go to the hospital with the injured person if parents, spouse or relative are not available.
